

Three models of experienced life regulation

	Care as a definition of life				Care as government of life
	Social ambivalence		Life course		Networks régulation	Care relations regulation
	Public/Private Poles	Autonomy/Dependence Poles	Constraints/Opportunities	Links between ages
Model of assistance	Life centred on Private Sphere	Dependence	Constraints for care giver and care receiver	Highly inclusive conception. Community model	State involvement reduced. Hierarchic organisation	Duties towards closest ones. Targeted assistance
Model of responsibility	Life centred on relationship between Public and Private Sphere	Autonomy for care receivers	Capacity of individuals to buy services on the market	Low inclusion conception. Adult model	For profit. Subsidiarity	Contracts between individuals. Quality control
Model of Empowerment	Free choice. New intermediary spaces	Autonomy for care receivers and care givers	Opportunities for care giver and care receiver	Low inclusion conception. Pluralism of models	Diversified. State instigator and co-ordinator	Collective choice of life. Case by case solutions.
